ORDER OF REASSIGNMENT; REPORT AND
RECOMMENDATION TO REMAND

Re: Dkt. No. 3

12 Plaintiffs Jadeada Garlipp, Caleb Garlipp, Lillian Phaeton, Paris Alexander, and James 13 Alexander sued Defendants Robert Bennett and Bernie MENDIA in Superior Court of the State of 14 California for the County of Alameda alleging six causes related to Plaintiffs' tenancy in a
15 building owned by Defendant Bennett. (Dkt. No. 1 at 3.)¹ Defendant Bennett removed the action
16 to this Court based on diversity jurisdiction. (Id. at 2.) Now pending before the Court are 17 Plaintiffs' unopposed² motion to remand and request for attorney's fees and costs. (Dkt. No. 3.)
18 As the defendants have not consented to magistrate jurisdiction, this action must be reassigned to a 19 district court judge. See Williams v. King, 875 F.3d 500, 504 (9th Cir. 2017) (holding that 20 magistrate "jurisdiction cannot vest until the court has received consent from all parties to an 21 action."). The Court thus vacates the hearing scheduled for January 17, 2019, and
22 RECOMMENDS that the newly assigned district court judge REMAND this case for the reasons
23 set forth below.

27 ECF-generated page numbers at the top of the documents.

28 ² Pursuant to Civil Local Rule 7-3(a), the opposition to a motion "must be filed and served not more than 14 days after the motion was filed." Defendant Bennett's opposition was due on December 27, 2018; he has not filed an opposition.

DISCUSSION

I. Motion to Remand

Plaintiffs argue that this action must be remanded because: (1) Defendant Bernie Mendoza “does not join in or consent to the removal” as required under 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b)(2)(A); and (2) Defendant Bennett’s “claims of diverse citizenship are false.” (Dkt. No. 3 at 3-4.) The Court addresses each argument in turn and concludes that remand is required.

A. Joinder of Defendant Mendoza

“All defendants who have been ‘properly . . . served in the action’ must join a petition for removal.” Destfino v. Reiswig, 630 F.3d 952, 956 (9th Cir. 2011) (quoting Emrich v. Touche Ross & Co., 846 F.2d 1190, 1193 n.1 (9th Cir. 1988) (citing 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a))). Thus, joinder in a petition for removal is not required where service of process was defective. See Destfino, 630 F.3d at 957 (“Because none of the non-joining defendants was properly served, their absence from the removal notice did not render the removal defective.”).

According to a Proof of Summons filed on November 6, 2018 in the underlying Alameda County court action, Defendant Mendoza was personally served with a copy of the summons, complaint, ADR package, and civil case cover sheet on November 3, 2018 at the subject property in Oakland, California.³ Garlipp, et al. v. Bennett, et al., Case No. RG18926223 (Alameda Cty. Super. Ct.); see also United States v. Black, 482 F.3d 1035, 1041 (9th Cir. 2007) (noting that a court may “take notice of proceedings in other courts, both within and without the federal judicial system, if those proceedings have a direct relation to the matters at issue.”). Because Defendant Mendoza was properly served, he was required to join in or consent to removal. His failure to do so renders Defendant Bennett’s removal defective.

B. Complete Diversity

Diversity jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332 requires both complete diversity of citizenship between the parties and an amount in controversy exceeding $75,000. The party

³ Defendant Bennett was personally served with a copy of the summons, complaint, ADR package, and civil case cover sheet in the underlying action on October 26, 2018 at the subject property in Oakland, California. See Garlipp, et al. v. Bennett, et al., Case No. RG18926223 (Cal. Super. Ct.).

1 seeking removal “bears the burden of establishing that removal is proper,” and the “removal
2 statute is strictly construed against removal jurisdiction.” Provincial Gov’t of Marinduque v.
3 Placer Dome, Inc., 582 F.3d 1083, 1087 (9th Cir. 2009). Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a), the 4 party’s notice of removal requires a “short and plain statement of the grounds for removal.”
5 Section “1446(a) tracks the general pleading requirement stated in Rule 8(a) of the Federal Rules
6 of Civil Procedure,” thus, “courts should ‘apply the same liberal rules [to removal allegations] that
7 are applied to other matters of pleading.’” Dart Cherokee Basin Operating Co., LLC v. Owens,
8 135 S. Ct. 547, 553 (2014) (quoting H. R. Rep. No. 100-889, p. 71 (1988)). The Ninth Circuit is 9 clear, however, that “[f]ederal jurisdiction must be rejected if there is any doubt as to the right of 10 removal in the first instance.” Gaus v. Miles, 980 F.2d 564, 566 (9th Cir. 1992).

11 Plaintiffs do not challenge the amount in controversy requirement but insists that complete
12 diversity is lacking because all parties are domiciled in California. Defendant Bennett’s notice of 13 removal asserts that both defendants are domiciled in Mexico, and thus “no defendant shares state
14 citizenship with any of the Plaintiffs.” (Dkt. No. 1 at 1-2.) At first glance, Defendant Bennett’s 15 notice of removal would appear to satisfy the “short and plain statement” requirement under 16 section 1446. However, Plaintiffs’ counsel submitted a declaration in support of remand stating 17 that Defendant Bennett’s claim is false because Defendant Bennett “has never been a Mexican 18 citizen and is not domiciled in Mexico,” but lives instead “in Richmond, California.” (Dkt. No. 3-19 1 at ¶ 6.) Similarly, Plaintiffs’ counsel asserts that Defendant Mendoza “is domiciled in Alameda
20 County” and has conducted business in California under the name “Mendoza and McDowell LLC,
21 entity number 201400910227” since January 2014. (Id. at ¶¶ 3-4.) Plaintiffs’ counsel bases these 22 assertions “[o]n information and belief.” (See id.) As to Defendant Bennett, counsel states:

23 This belief is based on Plaintiffs’ documented interactions with Mr.
24 Bennett going back decades including his personal presence to 25 address issues at the subject property, his telling Plaintiffs he lives in Richmond, California, and his owning the property at 1810 Coaling
Ave, Richmond, CA 94801.

26 (Id. at ¶ 6.) Defendant Bennett has not opposed Plaintiffs’ motion to remand, or otherwise
27 communicated with the Court since filing his notice of removal.

28 As the Supreme Court has noted:

The authority which the [removal] statute vests in the court to enforce the limitations of its jurisdiction precludes the idea that jurisdiction may be maintained by mere averment or that the party asserting jurisdiction may be relieved of his burden by any formal procedure. If his allegations of jurisdictional facts are challenged by his adversary in any appropriate manner, he must support them by competent proof.

McNutt v. General Motors Acceptance Corp., 298 U.S. 178, 189 (1936) (emphasis added).

Here, Plaintiffs challenged Defendant Bennett’s assertion of complete jurisdiction in an “appropriate manner” by filing a motion to remand. In support of their motion, Plaintiffs submitted a declaration setting forth facts suggesting that the defendants are not domiciled in Mexico. Defendant Bennett provides no opposition in response, and his notice of removal offers no proof of complete diversity beyond his “mere averment” that he and Defendant Mendoza are domiciled in Mexico. Such a showing is insufficient to establish complete diversity. On the record before it, however, the Court cannot make a finding regarding where the defendants are actually domiciled. It is enough for purposes of the instant motion that the Court doubts that complete diversity exists based on Plaintiffs’ showing. See Gaus, 980 F.2d at 566.

The Court recommends that the district court judge grant Plaintiffs' motion to remand. Defendant Bennett's notice of removal is procedurally improper based on Defendant Mendoza's failure to join in or consent to removal. Further, Defendant Bennett has not satisfied the Court that complete diversity exists.

II. Request for Attorney's Fees

Plaintiffs seek attorney's fees in connection with their motion to remand in the amount of $1,880.

“An order remanding the case may require payment of just costs and actual expenses, including attorney fees, incurred as a result of the removal.” 28 U.S.C. § 1447(c). “Absent unusual circumstances, courts may award attorney’s fees under § 1447(c) only where the removing party lacked an objectively reasonable basis for seeking removal. Conversely, when an objectively reasonable basis exists, fees should be denied.” Martin v. Franklin Capital Corp., 546 U.S. 132, 141 (2005). Thus, the question is: would a reasonable litigant in Defendant Bennett’s

1 shoes believe that removal was legally proper?

2 Given the factual dispute over Defendant Bennett's domicile, the Court cannot conclude
3 that Defendant Bennett lacked an objectively reasonable basis for seeking removal. As previously
4 discussed, it is unclear from the record where Defendant Bennett is actually domiciled. If
5 Defendant Bennett is in fact domiciled in Mexico, then he had an objectively reasonable basis for 6 seeking removal based on diversity jurisdiction. If, on the other hand, Defendant Bennett is 7 domiciled in California, then he did not. The Court cannot make a factual finding either way on 8 the record before it. The Court thus recommends that the district court judge deny Plaintiffs'
9 request for attorney's fees.

10 CONCLUSION

11 For the reasons set forth above, the Court recommends that the district court judge
12 GRANT Plaintiffs' motion to remand and DENY Plaintiffs' request for attorney's fees. Any party
13 may file objections to this report and recommendation with the district court judge within fourteen
14 days after being served with a copy. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b); N.D.
15 Cal. Civ. L.R. 72. Failure to file an objection may waive the right to review of the issue in the 16 district court.
